Results

NZQA provides a number of ways in which current and previous students can access their results, for either national qualifications or standards.

When a student enrolls in a programme that leads to credits for standards and national qualifications, they are given a unique identification number called a National Student Number (NSN). All standards and national qualifications gained by a student throughout their life are recorded against their NSN.

If you do not yet have an NSN, you will need to complete and send in a NZQA registration form \(DOC, 410KB\).

If you have a National Student Number (NSN) you can use the Learner Login to see all standards and national qualifications you have achieved.

If your original certificate has been lost, destroyed, misplaced or superseded by an endorsement you can apply for a reprint. Complete the application form \(PDF, 66KB\) and send to NZQA with the fee of $15.30 per qualification.
