Explanatory Notes

- 1 This achievement standard is derived from Level 6 of the Technology learning area in The New Zealand Curriculum, Learning Media, Ministry of Education, 2007; and is related to the material in the Teaching and Learning Guide for Technology, Ministry of Education at <http://seniorsecondary.tki.org.nz>.

Further information can be found at <http://www.technology.tki.org.nz/>.

Appropriate reference information is available in Safety and Technology Education: A Guidance Manual for New Zealand Schools, Ministry of Education at <http://technology.tki.org.nz/Curriculum-support/Safety-and-Technology-Education>, and the Health and Safety in Employment Act 1992.

- 2 Undertake development to make a prototype to address a brief involves:
- selecting and using materials and/or components
  - selecting and using tools and equipment
  - applying practical techniques and processes to make a prototype
  - evaluating the prototype in terms of the fitness for purpose of the outcome for its intended physical and social environment.

Undertake development to make a refined prototype to address a brief involves:

- trialling, to inform selection and use of materials and/or components
- trialling, to inform the selection and application of practical techniques and processes.

Undertake development to make a justified prototype to address a brief involves:

- trialling the prototype to gain evidence of the its fitness for purpose in its intended physical and social environment
- using evidence, including stakeholder feedback, to make a judgement of the prototype's fitness for purpose.

- 3 The brief may be provided by the teacher or developed by the student. If the student develops the brief then the teacher must ensure that it provides sufficient guidance to enable the prototype to be developed. The brief used for this standard must allow for a range of outcomes and include a conceptual statement and specifications for the prototype to be evaluated against.
- 4 The physical environment refers to the place where the final outcome will be situated. The social environment refers to those who will interact with the final outcome.
- 5 A prototype is a finished outcome that is ready to be trialled in situ. It is developed through technological practice and is reflective of accepted techniques and tolerances, and safety and legal responsibilities. Prototyping is the trialling of the prototype to gain evidence for the evaluation of the outcome's fitness for purpose in its intended physical and social environment.
- 6 Fitness for purpose refers to the outcome's ability to address its brief when situated in its intended location.
