Explanatory Notes

- This achievement standard is derived from The New Zealand Curriculum, Learning Media, Ministry of Education, 2007. It is aligned with Level 6 Achievement Objective B3 (Science and technology) and the material in the Teaching and Learning Guide for Physical Education, Ministry of Education, 2010 at <http://seniorsecondary.tki.org.nz>. Assessment will be consistent with and reflect the underlying and interdependent concepts of the Health and Physical Education Learning Area; Hauora, socio-ecological perspective, health promotion, and attitudes and values. (The New Zealand Curriculum, Learning Media, Ministry of Education, 2007, p22.)

This standard is also derived from Te Marautanga o Aotearoa. For details of Te Marautanga o Aotearoa achievement objectives to which this standard relates, see the Papa Whakaako.

- 2 Teachers must offer a choice of suitable large muscle locomotor-type physical activities so that students can relate the knowledge of the body function and the resulting movement/performance. The activities may include but are not limited to:
- fitness
  - dance
  - outdoor education
  - adventure-based learning
  - games
  - team-based sport
  - te ao kori
  - aquatic activities
  - leisure-based activities.

- 3 Function of the body involves how the human body works in relation to physical activity. This may include but is not limited to:
- basic functional anatomy e.g. anatomical movement, bones and muscles involved in the movement, agonists, antagonists
  - basic principles of biomechanics (depending on the context used) e.g. stability, force summation, levers
  - basic physiological responses to large muscle locomotor-type activities (depending on the context used) for example, acute and chronic response to training, energy systems.

Demonstrate understanding involves giving an account of, and/or giving details of, characteristics. For example, anatomical movement is considered a description of the way the joint moves.

Demonstrate in-depth understanding involves explaining how and why the function of the body is related to the performance of the physical activity.

Demonstrate comprehensive understanding involves depth and/or breadth of knowledge, including:

- the relationship between anatomical structure and the performance of a physical activity
  - the use of biomechanical principles to explain the performance of a physical activity
  - the relationship of physiological responses to the intensity of a physical activity.
