Explanatory Notes

- 1 This achievement standard is derived from the Level 7 Geography achievement objectives from the Social Sciences learning area of The New Zealand Curriculum, Learning Media, Ministry of Education, 2007; and is related to the material in the Teaching and Learning Guide for Geography, Ministry of Education, 2010 at <http://seniorsecondary.tki.org.nz>.

This standard is also derived from Te Marautanga o Aotearoa. For details of Te Marautanga o Aotearoa achievement objectives to which this standard relates, see the Papa Whakaako for the relevant learning area.

- 2 Demonstrate geographic understanding of differences in development involves:
- explaining aspects of development
  - including supporting case study evidence.

Demonstrate in-depth geographic understanding of differences in development involves:

- explaining, in detail, aspects of development
- including detailed supporting case study evidence.

Demonstrate comprehensive geographic understanding of differences in development involves:

- fully explaining aspects of development including use of geographic terminology and concepts, showing insight
- integrating supporting case study evidence.

- 3 Development refers to the standard of living and quality of life of people. Living standards and quality of life vary spatially, and undergo change, at the individual, local, national and global scales.

Case study evidence refers to information about communities, areas, or countries across the globe at different stages of development.

Characteristics of development refer to descriptions of development based on economic, social and political factors and features.

Different ways development can be measured include quantitative and qualitative indicators and their limitations.

Factors contributing to differences in development include natural and cultural factors.

Strategies for reducing the differences in development refer to the actions that have been or may be taken by governments and/or non-governmental organisations to reduce differences.

- 4 Aspects are selected from:
- characteristics of development
  - different ways development can be measured
  - factors contributing to differences in development
  - strategies for reducing the differences in development.
