Level 3 Drama 2018

Standards 91514 91518

Part A: Commentary

As with previous years, approximately twice as many candidates entered for the live performance standard compared to the theatre form standard.

Marking panels reported an improvement in candidates' ability to write within the space allowed to give succinct answers supported with relevant evidence.

Panels also reported that the major weakness for poorly achieving candidates was a lack of understanding of the language of drama used in the questions, for example, answering on the use of a technique when a convention was required.

Part B: Report on standards

Standard specific comments

It should be noted that this standard assesses knowledge of a text by a prescribed playwright. Answers based on texts that have not been written by a prescribed playwright will not be considered for assessment.

The plays listed in the assessment specifications are suggestions. Other texts written by a prescribed playwright are permissible.

Knowledge of the theatre form should focus on the text as it would have been seen in a live performance rather than as literature.

91518: Demonstrate understanding of live drama performance

- gave limited evidence from the performance to support answers
- recalled detail from the storyline of the performance accurately
- made simple sketches with some annotation
- used drama terminology in their responses
- interpreted questions accurately
- repeated information between questions.

Candidates whose work was assessed as Not Achieved commonly:

- gave simple description of the plot with little evidence or examples from the live performance to support their answers

- used drama terminology accurately and confidently, and responded personally to the performance, making connections between different aspects
- explained the effect of the performance on the audience knowledgeably
- supported answers with detail from the live performance that was accurate and specific, allowing the marker to visualise the aspect being explained.

Candidates who were awarded Achievement with Excellence commonly:

- supported answers with well-chosen (and not necessarily heavily detailed) evidence from the live performance that supported and/or enhanced the points of the discussion

Standard specific comments

This standard allows candidates to reassess how they see the world. Through live performance, candidates have the opportunity to empathise with people from all walks of life and in various situations. Candidates should be encouraged to reflect on how their lives and the lives of their communities are affected by the themes that are evident in the drama performances, to enrich their responses to questions about the performance.

Live performances that were sophisticated in their key ideas and/or execution of techniques and technologies, supported candidates in discussing questions in more depth and detail, and supported the development of perceptive responses.

The range of live performances discussed by candidates included contemporary theatre, Shakespeare, musical theatre, solo shows and modern adaptations of classic plays.
