Purpose

The National Certificate in Wāhi Tapu (Level 4) [Ref: 1241] is aimed particularly at those people who have an interest in, or who are currently working within, the area of the management and protection of Māori heritage and wāhi tapu.

This qualification focuses on developing the knowledge and skills of the holder to manage areas of cultural and spiritual significance to Māori. Candidates awarded this qualification will be able to demonstrate knowledge of the concepts of wāhi tapu, and the wide and varied relationships of Pākehā and Māori to wāhi tapu, including relevant legislation.

All the standards in this qualification are compulsory as this is the set of well-defined skills and knowledge required of people in the management and protection of wāhi tapu. The standards focus on the resources and management practices pertaining to wāhi tapu, and outline the management tools used in the care and protection of wāhi tapu. Candidates are required to prepare, implement and evaluate a kaitiakitanga project that has been developed to care for a particular area. They are also required to identify and describe Māori management practices of at least three local wāhi tapu.

This qualification may lead on to the proposed National Certificate in Māori Environmental Management and Practices (Advanced) (Level 5), or it may provide a pathway to the following qualifications that are currently listed on the New Zealand Register of Quality Assured Qualifications: the Certificate in Environmental Science and Resource Management, the Certificate in Iwi Environmental Management and Trusteeship, the Diploma in Environmental Management, and the Bachelor of Māori Development.

While prerequisite unit standards are not specified in this qualification, it is recommended that candidates have gained credit for level 2 Reo Māori and Tikanga unit standards to meet the entry requirements of the Wāhi Tapu unit standards.
