Purpose

The National Diploma in Project Management (Level 5) [Ref: 1501] recognises the skills and knowledge of a project manager. People awarded this qualification will have demonstrated that they have taken responsibility for managing projects, including managing the work of others within a project team.

The qualification structure recognises the diversity of contexts to which project management competencies are applied. To reflect this, the qualification includes an elective section where the project manager can demonstrate competencies across a range of industry, private sector, public sector, and community contexts.

This qualification comprises a compulsory section of project management standards and an elective section where credits can be drawn from across the National Qualifications Framework.

This qualification builds on the skills and knowledge recognised in the National Certificate in Project Management (Level 4) [Ref: 1500]. Unit 25219, Manage projects in the compulsory section is also contained in the Level 4 qualification.
