- (b) the NZQF Programme Approval and Accreditation Rules do apply to applications for, and the granting of, accreditations to provide approved programmes.

5. Criteria for approval of industry training programmes under section 249 of the Act

5.1 The following are the criteria for approval of industry training programmes of transitional ITOs:

(a) Qualification to which the programme leads

The programme meets the definition and specification of the applicable qualification type.

(b) Title, aims, learning outcomes and coherence

The title, aims, qualification outcomes and coherence of, and within, the whole programme are adequate and appropriate and meet the graduate profile and specification of the qualification listed on the NZQF.

(c) Specified requirements

There is a written set of specified requirements for entry, credit recognition and transfer, recognition of prior learning, indicative programme length and structure, and the programme's assessment policy and procedures.

Integration of components into the programme structure is clear, relevant, and appropriate.

Specific resources needed for the programme are specified and meet the relevant consent and moderation requirements.

There is clarity as to the arrangements for monitoring and assurance of consistency of qualification achievement by trainees.

(d) Training arrangements and support

The training arrangements and support provided are adequate and appropriate, given the qualification outcomes for the programme and the context in which the programme is offered.

Where specific resources are necessary for the programme to be provided, those resources are clearly stated and fit for purpose.

(e) Consultation

The qualification developer (where this is not the applicant), and relevant key stakeholders are consulted, their views are considered, and there is a summary of the views and the consideration of them.

(f) Assessment and moderation

Assessment methodologies provide fair, valid, consistent and appropriate assessment of trainee achievement, given the qualification outcomes.

There is an effective system for moderation of assessment materials and decisions.

(g) Self-assessment and external evaluation and review

As part of the institution's participation in self-assessment and in external evaluation and review, at a minimum the self-assessment includes adequate and effective processes for:

- the ongoing review of the programme, taking account of any review of the qualification:
- monitoring of the quality of outcomes for trainees and other stakeholders:
