How to access your NCEA results

07 Dec 2017

Exams for 2017 have finished and NZQA reminds students to practise accessing the Learner Login so results can be viewed when they are released in January.

Students should log in before Christmas to be sure they have their correct NSN and password when results are available (Tuesday 16 January 2018) and aren't held up on the day by having to confirm details or change passwords.

What students should do:

- Go to the Learner Login section of the NZQA website.
- Enter your username or NSN, and password.
- Login successfully.
- Forgotten your password? You can follow the direction on the screen to have a new password immediately emailed to you. Make sure your email address is one you will be able to access in January.

The NZQA Call Centre is available between 8am-5pm, Monday to Friday, on 0800 697 296 or 04 463 3000, for students who have difficulty logging in.

Remember that log in details are private and should be kept secure.
