War is an ethical dilemma for Christians as the teachings of Jesus encourage a more peaceful way of sorting out conflict and war is about killing people (7). However an ethical principle of the Anglican Church is that Christians are on the side of Justice. St Augustine developed the idea of the Just War. He said a just war was one led by the proper authority, fighting for a just cause with a reasonable chance of success (9). The Anglican Bishop of New York (8) applied this to WWII when he said “Our Lord Jesus Christ does not stand for peace at any price”. It is significant that these authorities speak out against war in any form.
