Explanatory Notes

Version 1 was republished in December 2015 to update the hyperlink to the conditions of assessment in explanatory note 4.

- This achievement standard is derived from the Learning Languages Communication Strand Curriculum Level 6 of The New Zealand Curriculum, Learning Media, Ministry of Education, 2007, and is related to the material in the Teaching and Learning Guide for Languages, Ministry of Education, 2010 at <http://seniorsecondary.tki.org.nz>.
- Give a presentation* involves expressing personal information, ideas and opinions. Communication is achieved overall, despite inconsistencies in:
  - articulation of signs
  - vocabulary choice
  - sign order (syntax)
  - facial grammar and expression
  - use of space for reference

- fluency and pace of delivery.

Give a convincing presentation involves developing information, ideas and opinions in NZSL that is generally credible and connected. The presenter selects and uses a range of language and language features that are fit for purpose and audience. Communication is not significantly hindered by inconsistencies.

Give an effective presentation involves developing information, ideas and opinions in NZSL that is controlled and integrated. The presenter capably selects and successfully uses a range of language and language features that are fit for purpose and audience. Communication is not hindered by inconsistencies.

3 Communicates a personal response may include but is not limited to:

- describing and/or responding to images or cultural practices
- telling a story or stories
- reporting family, personal, or everyday events
- describing opinions, emotions, or feelings elicited by stimulus material
- self-introduction or welcome.
