Explanatory Notes

- This achievement standard is derived from The New Zealand Curriculum, Learning Media, Ministry of Education (2007), Level 8. It is aligned with the achievement objectives in the Understanding the Arts in Context, Developing Practical Knowledge, Developing Ideas, and Communicating and Interpreting strands for Visual Arts, and is related to the material in the Teaching and Learning Guide for Visual Arts, Ministry of Education, 2012 at <http://seniorsecondary.tki.org.nz>.

This standard is also derived from Te Marautanga o Aotearoa. For details of Te Marautanga o Aotearoa achievement objectives to which this standard relates, see the Papa Whakaako for the relevant learning area.

- Systematically clarify ideas* involves analysing, reflecting on, and further developing concepts, subject matter, problems or situations in drawings informed by established practice.

Systematically extend ideas involves critically analysing, evaluating, and further developing concepts, subject matter, problems or situations, in drawings informed by established practice.

Systematically regenerate ideas involves critically analysing, evaluating, and revisiting concepts, subject matter, problems or situations from the student's previous artwork in order to re-form and extend ideas into new drawings informed by established practice.

- 3 Drawing is an ongoing decision-making process that enables a continuum to be established and maintained. Aspects of drawing are also identifiable in finished work.
 - 4 Systematically refers to the manner in which related artworks form a series or sequence to show generation, development, progression and understanding of ideas within the art making process.
 - 5 Established practice refers to works by artists that are recognised as belonging to a particular genre, style, convention, or way of working. The investigation of solutions found in established practice involves past and contemporary artworks.
 - 6 Informed by established printmaking practice refers to referencing and demonstrating understanding of the particular characteristics and constraints of established practice.
