Explanatory Notes

- This achievement standard is derived from The New Zealand Curriculum, Learning Media, Ministry of Education, 2007, the Social Sciences learning area and the Level 6 achievement objective:
 - Understand how the causes and consequences of past events that are of significance to New Zealanders shape the lives of people and society and is related to the material in the Teaching and Learning Guide for History, Ministry of Education, 2010 at <http://seniorsecondary.tki.org.nz>.

This standard is also derived from Te Marautanga o Aotearoa. For details of Te Marautanga o Aotearoa achievement objectives to which this standard relates, see the Papa Whakaako.

- Definitions:

Describe involves giving an account of the causes and consequences of an historical event, using appropriate supporting evidence. This must be a meaningful narrative showing historical sequence or chronological order.

Describe in depth involves showing greater depth of understanding of the causes and consequences of an historical event, using appropriate supporting evidence.

Comprehensively describe involves showing a thorough understanding of the causes and consequences of an historical event, using appropriate supporting evidence.

- 3 Appropriate supporting evidence could include specific details such as names, dates, examples, statistics, or case studies relevant to the context being described.
 - 4 An historical event is understood to be:
 - either a specific historical event in time, e.g. 9/11, 1981 Springbok Tour, Gallipoli, Influenza Pandemic
 - or an historical development or movement, e.g. Ratana, suffragettes, civil rights movements.
