Explanatory Notes

- This achievement standard is derived from the Level 8 strands and related achievement objectives in the Social Sciences Learning Area of The New Zealand Curriculum, Ministry of Education, 2007; and is related to the material in the Teaching and Learning Guide for Media Studies, Ministry of Education, 2010 at <http://seniorsecondary.tki.org.nz>.

This standard is also derived from Te Marautanga o Aotearoa. For details of Te Marautanga o Aotearoa achievement objectives to which this standard relates, see the Papa Whakaako for the relevant learning area.

- Produce a media product* involves using production technology and media conventions with control to meet the requirements of a brief. With control means conventions are applied consistently.

Produce a convincing media product involves the deliberate selection and application of production technology and media conventions to engage an audience.

Produce a compelling media product involves the effective selection and application of production technology and media conventions to command and capture audience attention.

- 3 A media product may include:
    - multi page A3 or A4 extended feature/section for a newspaper or magazine
    - extended magazine-style radio show (60 minutes)
    - multiple screen website with audio/video items, graphics etc
    - layered narrative film (3 minutes or longer)
    - researched film documentary (4 minutes or longer).
  - 4 A brief is a set of instructions identifying the requirements of the product including, the target audience, format, legal and ethical requirements, and purpose of the product.
  - 5 Media conventions are the commonly used features specific to the product and must be appropriate to the medium, format, product and audience, eg production design, genre and narrative conventions.
  - 6 Conditions of Assessment related to this achievement standard can be found at www.tki.org.nz/e/community/ncea/conditions-assessment.php.
