The Hospitality Standards Institute has revised the unit standards listed above, which were registered in February 2000, April 2003 and October 2004.

The unit standards in bold have also been rolled over and have a new planned review date of December 2009.

Reason for the review and revision

The Food and Beverage Advisory Group met in 2005 to develop two new unit standards for inclusion in their reviewed qualifications. As a result of that discussion, it was agreed that unit standard 4636 required review.

Unit standards 4637 and 4638 were then revised, as both of these unit standards had a prerequisite relationship with 4636. Changes to these unit standards were made following consultation with Competenz and the New Zealand Horticulture Industry Training Organisation.

Issues raised during the evaluation of these unit standards required the Advisory Group to meet again in March 2006 and to include in the discussion all of the unit standards that contained similar themes.

As a result of this consideration, unit standards 14426, 14427, 17282 and 17283 were also revised to clarify the standards for beer and wine service.

Main changes resulting from the review and revision

The main changes resulting from the review and revision are

- Unit standard 4636 has been replaced by unit standard 23060 and 22912.
- Two new unit standards, 22267 and 22268, for matching food with beverages have been registered.

- Element 3, covering wine and food matching, has been removed from unit standard 4637 as these skills are now covered by new unit standards.
- Entry information is now 'open' for all standards.
- Elements, performance criteria, and range statements have been updated and made consistent in expression.

Unit standards categorised as category C expire at the end of December 2008.
