Date new version published September 2007

Reason for the revision

The target group for this unit standard were not able achieve the requirements of the unit standard as they were not involved in developing and implementing processes and procedures for resolving privacy, security or confidentiality issues or for resolving the impacts on respondents relating to the collection and use of data. However, they did require knowledge of those processes and procedures when carrying out statistical analysis. The changes were made following consultation with key stakeholders including Statistics New Zealand and Auckland University of Technology.
