Responsibility for the unit standards and qualification referred to above, which were registered in 1999, has been transferred from ElectroTechnology Industry Training Organisation (ETITO) to the Forestry Industries Training and Education Council (FITEC).

Date new versions published

August 2009

Planned review date

December 2011

Rationale for Change

The change of responsibility was initiated as a consequence of the ETITO exit strategy for the Materials Management domain.

Outline of main changesQualification

The qualification has been amended to show the new ITO responsibility, maintained to take account of the revision of the Materials Management unit standards, and published as a new version. Please see details below.

Unit Standards

The unit standards have been revised and rolled over, and amended to show FITEC as the standard setting body and published as new versions. The opportunity was taken to update references and to correct typographical errors. FITEC plan to review these unit standards by December 2011.

FITEC is the only other Standard Setting Body (SSB) to have uptake of these unit standards in the last four years. The unit standards and related domain were originally developed by FITEC, who previously had standard setting responsibility for them.

Accreditation and Moderation Action Plan

The Materials Management unit standards have been transferred from AMAP [Ref: 0003] to AMAP [Ref: 0173].

Revision of Materials Management qualification

National Certificate in Materials Management (Level 3) [Ref: 0712]

Summary of revision and consultation process

FITEC has revised the qualification listed above in consultation with ETITO.

Main changes resulting from the revision

No changes were made to the structure or content of the qualifications. The document was amended to reflect the ITO change of responsibility from the ElectroTechnology Industry Training Organisation (ETITO) to Forestry Industries Training and Education Council (FITEC).

Transition

People working towards version 2 of this qualification may either complete the requirements for that version by December 2012, or transfer their results to this version.

This qualification contains standards that replace earlier standards. For the purposes of this qualification, people who have gained credit for the expiring standards are exempt from the requirement to gain credit for the replacement standards – see table below.
