Summary

In the November 2011 reviews of unit standards in the Employment Relations domain, it was felt that Workplace Relations better described the focus of the standards. As a result the unit standards were reclassified into that domain.

Unit standard 26847 is now reclassified, with some revisions, into the Workplace Relations domain as it was not included in either of those earlier reviews.

Main changes

- The unit standard was moved to the Workplace Relations domain.
- A brief descriptor for the domain was included in explanatory note 1 to enhance understanding of the purpose of the standard in this domain.
- The planned review date was extended to accord with that for the reviewed standards.
