Date new versions publishedAugust 2015*Summary

In 2015, NQS initiated the review of unit standards from the Teaching domain. Despite low usage these standards were revised and rolled over in 2012 to allow for a review of secondary/tertiary interaction.

These standards have historically been used to assess practicing teachers for award of the New Zealand Diploma in Specialist Subjects (Secondary Teacher) Division 2. The standards have not been used and the qualification is no longer being awarded so the decision was made to expire them.
