Summary

The Fellmongery and Leather Processing standards have been reviewed as a result of the mandatory review of Food Processing qualifications, which is part of the Targeted Review of Qualifications (TROQ).

The review process has identified seventeen standards that needed amending to reflect the development of training programmes and one new standard that needed to be developed.

The meat processing sector has also developed six new standards at Level 2 to meet the needs of people requiring pre-entry training before beginning work in the industry.

The changes were endorsed by the sector in June 2014.
