Connexis has completed the revision of the unit standard listed above.

Date new version published

May 2021

Planned review date

December 2024
(unchanged)

Summary

Following feedback, Connexis identified a need to revise the unit standard to increase the credit value slightly. The increased credit value is comparably appropriate with other similar standards.

Main changes

- The credit value of the unit standard was raised from 4 to 5.
- The date of publication for Safety Manual – Electricity Industry was updated in the Guidance Information.
