Definitions

Client referred to in this unit standard is the Māori patient.

Hauora means the appropriate practices associated with the holistic wellbeing of an individual as a member of a whānau, hapū, and iwi. For the purpose of this unit standard, these practices are determined by service providers or entities that operate within a hauora context.

Hauora context refers to a hauora service provider capacity and environment.

Hauora outcomes are the result of any Māori health initiative.

Health sector refers to health service provision e.g. Policy, Human Resources, Ministry of Health, Non-Government Organisations, Primary Health Organisations.

Health professionals refer to medical doctors, nurses, therapists, psychologists, paediatricians, psychiatrists, naturopaths, or organisations that govern specialist health professionals or groups.

Issues may include but are not limited to – conflict with institutional policy, human resources, iwi differences, cultural practices, tikanga, kaupapa.

Kaitiakitanga refers to protection, control and guardianship over personal hauora wellness.

Mana can be defined as power, authority or prestige. Mana has a number of dimensions, including the power of the gods, the power of ancestors, the power of the land, and the power of the individual.

Māori Health conditions refers to diabetes, cancer, gout, mental health, obesity, alcohol, drugs etc.
