Definition

Company requirements refer to instructions to staff on policy and procedures that are communicated in an oral or written form. These requirements must include legislation and safety requirements, and may include but are not limited to, manufacturers' instructions, industry codes of practice and standards.

Elements and performance criteria

Element 1

Determine spinner settings to meet required food consumption rates.

Performance criteria

- 1.1 The actual food delivery rate of spinners is calculated in accordance with company requirements.
- 1.2 Approximate spinner settings are determined to match food consumption rates.

Element 2

Interpret feeding data.

Performance criteria

- 2.1 Irregularities seen in feeding data are interpreted, and possible causes are explained in accordance with company requirements.
- 2.2 The review of feeding data, and the corrective action that may be taken if there are irregularities, are demonstrated in accordance with company requirements.

Please note

Providers must be accredited by NZQA, or an inter-institutional body with delegated authority for quality assurance, before they can report credits from assessment against unit standards or deliver courses of study leading to that assessment.

Industry Training Organisations must be accredited by NZQA before they can register credits from assessment against unit standards.

Accredited providers and Industry Training Organisations assessing against unit standards must engage with the moderation system that applies to those standards.

Accreditation requirements and an outline of the moderation system that applies to this standard are outlined in the Accreditation and Moderation Action Plan (AMAP). The AMAP also includes useful information about special requirements for organisations wishing to develop education and training programmes, such as minimum qualifications for tutors and assessors, and special resource requirements.
