4 Definitions

Clients may be internal or external to the organisation.

Codes of practice refers to Range Design and Construction Guidelines (for civilian shooting ranges) or JSP 403 Ed.3: Handbook of Defence Land Ranges Safety, Volume II (for military shooting ranges).

Consultancy services may or may not involve remuneration.

Plans and procedures refers to documentation which identifies all requirements of codes of practice, legislation, territorial authority bylaws, and landowners, required to establish a shooting range, and includes proposed standing orders.

Standing orders are the instructions that must be followed by users of the range.

5 Range

Evidence of at least three sets of plans is required, covering rifle, pistol, and shotgun ranges.

Outcomes and evidence requirements

Outcome 1

Ascertain requirements for establishment of a shooting range.

Evidence requirements

- 1.1 Identity of client, and authority to establish a shooting range are verified.
- 1.2 Client's objectives for establishing a shooting range are clarified.
- 1.3 Location and landowner of proposed shooting range are verified.

Outcome 2

Develop plans and procedures for establishment of a shooting range.

Evidence requirements

- 2.1 Applicable codes of practice, legislation, and territorial authority bylaws are identified.
- 2.2 Suitability of site is determined in accordance with codes of practice, legislation, and territorial authority bylaws.
- 2.3 Legal and consent requirements are identified in accordance with codes of practice, legislation, territorial authority bylaws, and landowners.

Please note

Providers must be granted consent to assess against standards (accredited) by NZQA, before they can report credits from assessment against unit standards or deliver courses of study leading to that assessment.

Industry Training Organisations must be granted consent to assess against standards by NZQA before they can register credits from assessment against unit standards.

Providers and Industry Training Organisations, which have been granted consent and which are assessing against unit standards must engage with the moderation system that applies to those standards.

Requirements for consent to assess and an outline of the moderation system that applies to this standard are outlined in the Consent and Moderation Requirements (CMRs). The CMR also includes useful information about special requirements for organisations wishing to develop education and training programmes, such as minimum qualifications for tutors and assessors, and special resource requirements.
