2 Definitions

Agent means a real estate agent who holds or is deemed to hold a current license as an agent under the Real Estate Agents Act 2008.

Agency Agreement means an agreement under which an agent is authorised to undertake real estate agency work for a client in respect of a transaction. It is commonly known in the industry as a listing form.

Appraise/appraisal means estimating the market value of a business.

Businesses include proportional interests in businesses such as partnerships and shares.

Client means the person on whose behalf an agent carries out real estate agency work and is commonly known in the industry as a vendor or seller.

Common Law is also known as case law – judgements made by courts, rather than laws written by parliament. Judgements relating to the duties of an ‘agent’ may be applicable to this unit standard.

Customer means a person who is a buyer or potential buyer of land or a business and is commonly known in the industry as purchaser or buyer.

Code means the Real Estate Agents Act (Professional Conduct and Client Care) Rules 2009 which set out the code of professional conduct and client care, available from <http://www.rea.govt.nz>.

Industry requirements mean all actions must comply with relevant professional body standards, legislation, codes of professional conduct and client care, and approved guides. Legislation is available from <http://www.legislation.govt.nz> and codes of professional conduct and client care, and approved guides are available from <http://www.rea.govt.nz>.

Approved guides mean the two approved guides developed by the Real Estate Agents Authority covering an agency agreement and a sale and purchase agreement. These are available from <http://www.rea.govt.nz>.

Larger size businesses are businesses with a profit of over $200,000 per annum.

Prospective client means a person who is considering or intending to enter into an agency agreement with an agent to carry out real estate agency work.

Company procedures are the specific procedures used in real estate companies and vary from company to company. All must comply with the Real Estate Agents Act 2008 and any applicable real estate regulations that may apply.

Lessor is a person that leases a property to another, and is also known as a landlord or owner.
