- 2 Assessment

This standard recognises the ability to work to construction workplace standards under the supervision of a commercially competent practitioner whose role is to ensure the completed construction meets industry and regulatory requirements.

Evidence for this unit standard must reflect commercial standards; the verbal and written information covering company policy, standard operating procedures and processes and job-specific instructions.

This unit standard must be assessed under the supervision of a commercially competent practitioner in workplace conditions that reflect:

- commercial standards, current health, safety, industry, and workplace requirements; and
- industry requirements for commercially acceptable timeframes.

- 3 Definitions

Daily maintenance refers to lubricating adjustments or fences, cleaning, identifying basic problems, attending to damage, wear and tear, unusual noises, and basic electrical problems.

Joinery work refers to the work, job, or project relevant to joinery, cabinetry, doors and windows, stairs, bench tops, shop fitting, and specialty surfaces.

Workplace requirements refer to the documented procedures specific to a workplace which set out the standard and the required practices of that workplace. This may include job specifications, procedures, practices, manufacturer recommendations, technical data sheets and material safety data sheets.
