Explanatory notes

- 1 Definitions

Legislative requirements refer to the obligations of the employer and/or employee under the Health and Safety at Work Act 2015 and Health (Hairdressers) Regulations 1980.

Workplace requirements mean the practices prescribed by management as being the quality standards for client contact and work organisation for a particular salon.

Complex styles refer to a classic French roll, and any style that incorporates a combination of at least three elements and/or techniques and is suitable for special occasions. It excludes the use of ponytails, and styles from Unit 25792, Dress long hair into elementary styles.
- 2 In this unit standard all work must comply with legislative requirements and must ensure optimum hair condition and maximum client comfort at all times.
- 3 Assessment against this unit standard requires evidence of a full head classic French roll and at least one other complex style, for which a minimum of 75% of the hair must be up. No hair pieces, extensions or accessories may be used.

The classic French roll must include back combing.

Preparation for the complex styles must include thermal styling such as heated rollers, tongs, and flat irons.

Please note

Providers must be granted consent to assess against standards (accredited) by NZQA, before they can report credits from assessment against unit standards or deliver courses of study leading to that assessment.

Industry Training Organisations must be granted consent to assess against standards by NZQA before they can register credits from assessment against unit standards.

Providers and Industry Training Organisations, which have been granted consent and which are assessing against unit standards must engage with the moderation system that applies to those standards.

Requirements for consent to assess and an outline of the moderation system that applies to this standard are outlined in the Consent and Moderation Requirements (CMRs). The CMR also includes useful information about special requirements for organisations wishing to develop education and training programmes, such as minimum qualifications for tutors and assessors, and special resource requirements.
