Special notes

- 1 Definitions
legislative requirements refer to the obligations of the employer and/or employee under the Health and Safety in Employment Act 1992 and Health (Hairdressers) Regulations 1980;
complex styles refers to styles requiring a combination of rollers, pincurls, and placements that result in directional movement which displays volume and/or indentation.

- 2 In this unit standard all work must comply with legislative requirements and must ensure optimum hair condition and maximum client comfort at all times.
- 3 Assessment against this unit standard requires a minimum of five rollers and five pincurls with a minimum of two different roller and pincurl placements. Placement will be moulded or placed.
- 4 Useful references for this unit standard include the Employers' Training Manual, and the Training Record Book. Both of these publications, and others that may be of use, can be obtained from the New Zealand Hairdressing Industry Training Organisation Inc., PO Box 11-764, Wellington, or via <http://www.hito.org.nz>.

Please note

Providers must be accredited by NZQA, or an inter-institutional body with delegated authority for quality assurance, before they can report credits from assessment against unit standards or deliver courses of study leading to that assessment.

Industry Training Organisations must be accredited by NZQA before they can register credits from assessment against unit standards.

Accredited providers and Industry Training Organisations assessing against unit standards must engage with the moderation system that applies to those standards.

Accreditation requirements and an outline of the moderation system that applies to this standard are outlined in the Accreditation and Moderation Action Plan (AMAP). The AMAP also includes useful information about special requirements for organisations wishing to develop education and training programmes, such as minimum qualifications for tutors and assessors, and special resource requirements.
