Title
Demonstrate knowledge of, apply and reflect on age-related nutrition needs for a child in an ECE service

Level
3

Credits
2

Purpose
People credited with this unit standard are able to: demonstrate knowledge of age-related food requirements relevant to children in an ECE service; plan nutritious meals for a toddler or a young child in accordance with food and nutrition guidelines; prepare and serve a meal for the child, and reflect on learning from the process.

This unit standard has been developed primarily for assessment within programmes leading to the New Zealand Certificate in Early Childhood Education and Care (Level 3) [Ref: 2849], and as an option for the New Zealand Certificate in Early Childhood Education and Care (Level 4) [Ref: 2850].

This unit standard is an introduction to education and care of children in an ECE service. It is designed for people who intend to work, or are working with, children in an ECE service. People working in the wider education sector may also be interested in this unit standard. This unit standard will prepare people to advance to a higher level of study in early childhood education.

Classification
Early Childhood Education and Care > Early Childhood: Educational Theory and Practice

Available grade

Explanatory notes

1. Relevant data about a child may be set by the assessor or negotiated between the assessor and candidate. The data will include preparing and serving requirements that may be real or simulated.

2. Candidates for this unit standard should be familiar with the intent of Te Tiriti o Waitangi, which informs guidelines, procedures, and practices in the ECE sector.

3. Definitions
   Children refers to the three 'broad age groups' as defined in Te Whāriki for children. These are overlapping age categories and are defined as:
   - infant – birth to 18 months;
   - toddler – one year to three years;
   - young child – two and a half years to school entry age.
Diverse eating preferences refers to aspects such as fussy eaters or food rejection; special dietary requirements due to food allergies, intolerances, cultural background or medical conditions.

An Early Childhood Education (ECE) service may include a centre-based service, hospital-based service, or home-based service. The home-based service may be nominated by the child’s parent, be the child’s own home, or the home of the educator.
