Guidance Information

- Recommended skills and knowledge for entry:
Unit 32001, Compose and manage text to produce documents using basic keyboarding and layout skills, or demonstrate equivalent knowledge, skills and experience.
- Content for some business documents may be provided to the learner in hard copy. It is expected that the learner will input and format the text, not that it be supplied in electronic version such as .txt file.
- Minor grammatical errors that do not detract from reader understanding or obscure meaning are acceptable for composed work, but when entering text from prescribed copy, documents must be 100% accurate and consistent with the prescribed text. Learners must be given the opportunity to proofread their work prior to submission.
- Definitions
Design layout refers to the positioning and arrangement of various elements in a document and considers contrast, repetition, alignment, proximity, harmony, balance and proportion.
Direct composition refers to original text created in learner's own words.
Ethical and legal considerations related to managing and sharing files refer to copyright, privacy, file security, appropriateness of the material in its context.
Fit for purpose means the information is accurate and relevant to the intended audience and purpose of the document. The document is free from text errors with appropriate spelling, grammar, vocabulary and tone, and use of words and figures is consistent.
Formatted refers to text appearance as well as page appearance.

Good practice in this context includes selecting and using the file and folder management features or functions to enable effective use within applications, such as searching, naming, storage and retrieval.

Intended audience is the individual or group who will receive the information; therefore, the amount and nature of the information and the level of the language must be appropriate to this audience. The intended audience must be specified for each document.

Keyboarding skills include accurately keying in text at approximately 25 words per minute (wpm).

Organisational requirements refer to the routine processes followed, consistent with relevant organisational policies and procedures, which can be documented or based on workplace good practice models.

Shared refers to offering access to digital information or resources for collaboration, reviewing, downloading, and/or modification.

- 5 All activities associated with this unit standard must comply with health and safety guidelines and recommendations in relation to the working environment and work practices.
